El nuevo deportivo más veloz del mundo ya está aquí?

Manufacturers often discount cars for several reasons. There may be a newer model coming out in a few months, or dealers may have lots of a particular car in stock and will reduce prices to make space for other models. Or it may just be an unpopular car and its price can be cut to help it sell. Don't confuse unpopular cars with bad cars however – a well-discounted car may not be selling like hot cakes, but it may be just the car for your needs.

How can I tell if I'm getting a good deal on a new car?

First of all, make sure you're buying from a manufacturer-approved dealer, not via a 3rd party company or broker. This way you guarantee your car will come with a full UK warranty and can be serviced at any dealer in the country, regardless of where you bought it.

The suriprice should include VAT, 12 months road tax, and all the options you specified. Also establish that the deal isn't dependent on you paying in a certain way, some dealers may only offer a deal dependent on you buying in cash, or from taking their finance. company or broker. This way you guarantee your car will come with a full UK warranty and can you paying in a cebe serviced at any dealer in the country, regardless of where you bought it.
